Chartis in Australia Launches Investment Managers Insurance

Sydney – 14 November, 2011 – Chartis in Australia today announced the launch of its new Investment Managers Insurance product.

The exposures and risks associated with Investment Managers change over time. Chartis is uniquely placed to address these changes brought by regulators, investors, third parties and employees in their new Investment Managers Insurance (IMI) Policy.

Developed by Chartis Australia's Financial Lines division, the Investment Managers Insurance product is offered in unique, modular components which allow brokers to tailor cover for specific industries. The cover complements existing Chartis D&O Gold products and includes protection for Professional Liability, Management Liability, plus the addition of Crime exposures faced by Fund Managers.

"The new modular format of our IMI policy provides our brokers with the flexibility to choose only the cover the client requires," says Liliana Uhrig, Regional Manager, Financial Lines, Chartis Australia. "The format allows the policy to be tailored for the client and their exposures, creating what we believe to be an industry-leading product."

Chartis' Investment Managers Insurance policy safeguards the investment managers, investment advisors and investment funds against exposures that a traditional Professional Indemnity or Directors' and Officers' policy will not cater for.
