

A secure, user-friendly, on-line portfolio management system

Environmental Portal

Helping our real estate clients manage their environmental insurance needs.

Chartis is committed to assisting our clients and their brokers manage the often complex environmental insurance needs of their real estate portfolios. Faced with the need to extend coverage to new entities on a site-by-site basis, tailor coverage for specific sites, or simply address property acquisitions or divestitures, clients' Risk Managers and brokers can spend considerable time and effort managing environmental insurance policies for real estate portfolios. In response to these needs, Chartis launched Environmental Portal, a secure, user-friendly, on-line portfolio management system accessible from any computer with an internet connection.

Portal is an easy-to-use system that...

- Provides real-time information about the status of coverage requests
- Organizes and centralizes data storage allowing users to load, store, retrieve and search documents including policies, endorsements, applications, environmental reports, development and remediation plans and O&M plans
- Notifies users of new pending items or changes in status to the account
- Enables communication among and establishes an underwriting forum for the underwriter, Risk Manager and broker
- Provides a secure environment for sensitive communications and documents by restricting access to select users

Environmental Portal

Streamlines the underwriting process through quick response times and efficient handling.

Environmental Portal is a one-stop tracking tool, which streamlines the underwriting process through quick response times and efficient handling. Users are able to view and track policy requests for existing insurance policies as well as initiate coverage requests for each newly acquired property.

As your request moves through the Portal process, the email notification function will send an alert to all users regarding any pending items or a change in status on the account.

Portal users can log-on from any computer with an internet connection, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Documents loaded into Portal can be accessed for viewing, downloading and printing at any time, eliminating the need to request copies of policies, endorsements, environmental reports and other documents via fax, email or snail mail.

Portal is available to registered users only.
